

Young Association of Lawyers, Biotechnologists and Accountants

YALBA is a Network composed of experienced professionals working in different fields of biotechnology and law, which exploits the synergies and complementarities of the two sectors, in order to offer advice concerning complex problems requiring a multidisciplinary approach.

Our biotechnologists have a Ph.D. and are authors of scientific papers, published on international journals of reference in their respective fields. They are competent in agriculture and food sciences, environmental sciences, medical and health sciences, pharmacology, and toxicology. In particular, they are able to provide consulting services for companies, professionals, private and public institutions, through statistical analysis of the data, literature searches on specialized science and patent databases, writing and proofreading of scientific papers, and translations from/to scientific English. Moreover, they can offer advice and collaboration to legal experts working in the legal fields related to medical and biological sciences, such as industrial, agribusiness, environmental, health, and pharmaceutical laws.

YALBA is based in Italy, in the cities of Alba and Turin. However, the experience gained abroad by our professionals has allowed YALBA to extend a network of contacts with law firms in the United States (New York), China (Shanghai), Argentina (Rosario), ASEAN (Bangkok, Singapore), Switzerland (Lugano, Zug), in order to promote contacts and information exchange, as well as on site advice, for companies and professionals interested in trading with these markets.

Lawyers belonging to YALBA have economic and business backgrounds, and provide their legal advice and assistance, in various areas of law (civil law, commercial law, bankruptcy law and commercial criminal law), in and out of court, to private companies, public agencies and professionals, both Italian and foreign.

YALBA also is able to extend its business to industrial law through non directly affiliated professionals.